

Useful Websites

<http://www.ahd.com>: This is a hospital search website that is very useful when completing employment information for the nurse application.

<http://www.gsa.gov>: Per Diem Rates by State, City, and County for calculating monthly housing and meals and incidental amounts

<http://americanheart.org>: Search for local BCLS, ACLS and PALS classes offered.

<https://www.ncsbn.org/boards>: Contact information for all state boards of nursing. <https://www.ncsbn.org/nlc>: Information and map of current states participating in the Nurse License Compact.

<http://www.nurseceu.com>: Site to obtain additional C.E.U's. There are some for free and some that the nurse will need to pay for.

<http://pantravelers.org>: Official site for the Professional Association of Healthcare Travelers. This site offers a free membership for basic information about being a traveling nurse. It is an unbiased site not sponsored by any healthcare staffing or marketing company.

<http://www.fuelcostcalculator.com>: AAA calculates the estimated amount of gas to travel from one location to another based on the year, make and model vehicle you will be driving and current gas prices.

<http://www.kobaly.com>: Travel Nurse Tax Specialist, highly recommended by travelers, recruiters and healthcare staffing companies to make sure nurses are taking advantage of benefits available and making sure they meet the criteria set by the IRS.

<http://www.paycheckcity.com/NetPayCalc/netpaycalculator.asp>: Salary Paycheck Calculator provides an estimate of take home pay after taxes, based on filing status and deductions.

<http://www.ehealthinsurance.com/>: BEST Tool on the Web for Accurate Private Health Benefits Quotes